Bubbl

BUBBL, A GROWING NYC-BASED TECH-MEDIA STARTUP, IS HIRING A SENIOR WEB DEVELOPER!

Turns out stretching between the Entrepreneurs Roundtable Accelerator, a Hackstar residency, a seat at the Warner Bros. family, and Mass Challenge is time-consuming. Who knew? What we're getting at is it there are a few loose ends we need to turn into knots. Enter you, our favorite Senior Web Developer ever.

You:

You are a wizard with skills to start coding anything, but eager to learn more. You're so bright, NASA studies you through a telescope. You love detail, like catching that typo; you beat deadlines before they're set, and you notate your code like you're flirting with an OCD complex. You have enough of a sense of humor to appreciate this job description. You want to join a team of brilliant minds boasting top degrees and technical chops, and you want to sharpen your own skills while getting paid in a fast-paced environment.

Let's break it what we expect from you:

- 3+ years web development experience
- Ability to write standards compliant, accessible, SEO-optimized XHTML & CSS
- Solid understanding of cross-browser/platform issues and code solutions
- Practical understanding of HTML5 and CSS3
- Experience using JS Frameworks (jQuery, MooTools, YUI).
- Experience with source control (SVN, GitHub, Mercurial).
- Experience working with Video Players

Generally you'll be overseeing: the development of client side engineering solutions; hand coding of web-based applications, web pages, and web-based mobile experiences; integrating your code with other tech (Flash, Web Services, client back-end systems, content management systems); optimizing performance; and working with leading designers and engineers.

Apply:

Sound like you? Want to show off your ability to complete complex projects? Want to work fast? Want to bring donuts for everyone each morning? Okay, kidding on that last one - we were just hungry when we wrote this. Bundle your resume and a brief statement of why the h*ck you want to work for Bubbl into a tidy email and Pony Express it to James@bubbl.me.

Compensation is competitive.
